

Status Report

Intern: Rito

Week 9: 6th July 2015 to 13th July 2015

Number of hours worked: 25

Update:

With reference to previous week's report, we are trying to minimize the re-working as much as possible, and this includes some non-trivial considerations in our path. The main motivation for using such a way is to simply keep intact the rest of the work in the KSI infrastructure. In particular, we need to keep it in sync with the rest of the literature so that one section does not jump out as something entirely new, needing new definitions and assumptions. Thus, this week was mostly focused on reducing as many parts as possible from "external" elements to transformations of the ones already present in the previous work.
